

Regarding fall festival:

I hope this note finds you and yours well. This year has provided many unexpected challenges that have forced us to modify our plans. We found ways to continue gathering for worship and Bible study from the beginning. Though not always comfortable with the format, we have not lost a single week in gathering. It has been delightful to meet in-person over the past few weeks and we look forward to the days when more of our family will be able to join us. We are rapidly approaching the time when we would be hosting our annual Fall Festival. This has been an event that has given us opportunity to open our doors to the community and share a safe place to gather. This year we are encouraging you to engage your neighborhood with the “Good News”.

We would like to help support your family’s outreach from your own front door. As you think about your preparation for trick-or-treaters, we would like to include some evangelistic materials as well as an invitation to our upcoming spring ministries. Maybe, you would like to partner with another family and find creative ways to share the message. If you would like help, our staff is available. With our gym closed for night, we are planning to move our welcome to the community to our front porch, here at the church. We will be using small groups of volunteers to provide some music as well as distribute treats and a message to those who pass by.

On Saturday the 31st, our front porch will be open from 5:30-6:30. If you would like to participate in the distribution or music, let us know as soon as possible. This will give you time to be here at the church and back home to meet your own neighbors. If you have any questions, please feel free to call.

We are already making plans for next year as we seek news ways to be intentional with the delivery of the “Good News”.

Blessings,

Brother Mike
